Informant Finds Ray Escape Map

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A photo copy of a map reportedly drawn by James Earl Ray as part of a new escape plan was found by an informant in his brother's motel room and turned over to police, the House assassinations committee said Wednesday.

The crudely drawn map shows parts of the compound and grounds of the Brushy Mountain state penitentiary where Ray is serving a life sentence for the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

A committee report says it is "in James Earl Ray's handwriting," and that it was made available to the FBI and Tennessee police officials "to prevent a possible catastrophic event, another escape attempt by James Earl Ray."

The report was prepared by Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, the committee chairman, in an attempt to refute allegations made by Ray's attorney and an underground informant that activities by a committee investigator were illegal and improper.

Those allegations by attorney Mark Lane and Oliver Patterson, a former FBI informant, prompted some House members to ask that the committee's request for additional funding be delayed pending an investigation of its methods.

The Stokes report denied that investigator Conrad Baetz ever instructed Patterson to record the conversations of Ray's brother, Jerry, and said that staff members had instructed him not to do so on grounds such conversations could not be used as evidence.

"Apparently Patterson... elected to record certain conversations on his own," the report said.

It said that Patterson did obtain samples of Jerry Ray's hair in an attempt to learn if it matched unidentified human hair found near the scene of Dr. Martin Luther King's assassination in Memphis, Tenn., in April 1968.

The Stokes report did not say whether the samples matched but did assert that obtaining it from a bathroom used by Jerry Ray was "most appropriate" and an entirely legal investigative technique.

The report denied Patterson, a former FBI informant, ever was paid for his services other than to receive expense money.

And it said no effort was made to encourage him to give false testimony as he has claimed. "Based on all available information and evidence, the committee is satisfied that the allegations of Oliver Patterson are not founded on fact and that no unlawful or improper conduct has been engaged in by members of the staff," the Stokes report said. The report said that in mid-April of this year, while Patterson in his undercover role was sharing a motel room in Washington with Jerry Ray, he asked committee investigators if he should go through Ray's effects "for documents pertinent to the committee's investigation." "Patterson was told immediately and repeatedly that he should not engage in such conduct," the report maintained. But it said that on the following day Patterson told investigators "that he had indeed rummaged through Jerry Ray's belongings and discovered a map that he thought would be of interest...." The report said investigators at first told Patterson not to take the map and not to show it to them. But it said later conversations with Patterson indicated that "the map suggested an active plan by James Earl Ray to escape..." It said that given this new information the committee "felt compelled" to ask Patterson to obtain a copy of the map so that law enforcement officials could be alerted.

'I didn't shoot him . . . But . . . I purchased the weapon and things like that.'

James Earl Ray:

'I'm Not Guilty,

But I Might Plead

Guilty Again'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — James Earl Ray says he might once again plead guilty to the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. — even though he insists he never fired the fatal bullet at the civil rights leader.

"I was in a bind," Ray said in a copyrighted story in Sunday's Nashville Tennessean.

Ray, serving a 99-year sentence in the King assassination, claimed he was pressured into a guilty plea in 1969 by his lawyer at the time, Percy Foreman.

"I'M NOT GUILTY in any ways legally," Ray said. "In other words, I didn't shoot him . . . But I may be in some way partly responsible for it . . . I purchased the weapon and things like that."

Ray claims a mysterious man named "Raoul" furnished the money for the rifle apparently used to kill King in Memphis on April 4, 1968. But Ray said he had no idea "Raoul" was planning to shoot King.

"I understand the difference between knowing and unknowing . . . There's got to be an intent," he said in the interview.

Ray said Foreman put him "in a bind" by telling him that the chances were "99 per cent" sure Ray would go to the electric chair. He said he also feared his brother, Jerry Ray, might be prosecuted by the government unless he pleaded guilty.

HE SAID he signed a stipulation that he fired the shot that killed King, knowing it was false.

"If I had to do it all over again I would have had to — I think I would have to admit to that stipulation based on the position they had me in — Percy Foreman, the trial judge and the prosecutor," Ray said.

He said he is convinced he might have received "40 or 50 years," had he represented himself or had a public defender handled his case.

Ray said he signed a letter to Foreman authorizing the guilty plea. But he claimed the letter, prepared by Foreman, was "completely false."

RAY SAID he was in the vicinity of the murder scene at the time of the slaying but that he was unaware of the killing until he heard about it on the radio.

Ray said he bought the rifle, on which his fingerprints were found, but claimed the last time he saw it was the day before King's death when he gave it to "Raoul" in Memphis.

Asked about the fingerprints, Ray said, "It doesn't surprise me too much. When I got rid of the gun, it was still in the case. There is the possibility that later on someone handled the gun who wore gloves. My fingerprints should have been all over it as much as I handled it when I purchased it."

Ray said the only thing that proved was his stupidity.

"USUALLY whenever I'm doing anything — in the past like armed robbery — you usually put Band-Aids over your fingers and that way you won't usually leave any prints," he added.

HE SAID he has selected one picture which he said looks like "Raoul" and said the photograph is in the possession of the House Assassinations Committee, which is investigating King's death.

Attorneys: FBI Tried To Pressure Ray

PETROS, Tenn. — James Earl Ray told House investigators Thursday that the FBI tried to pressure him into naming alleged conspirators in the assassination of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Ray's attorney said. Attorney Jack Kershaw met with reporters after Robert Lehner, who is leading the King portion of the House Assassination Committee's investigation, spent more than six hours with Ray behind the walls of Brushy Mountain State Prison. Ray is serving a 99-year sentence for the 1968 murder of the civil rights leader. "I find today that the FBI is involved in this case, in my opinion, in an improper way," Kershaw said. "FBI pressure was brought upon James Earl Ray by means of threatening members of his family."

FBI Files

Minutemen, Klansmen Checked In King Probe

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The FBI investigated members of the Ku Klux Klan and the Minutemen in the early days of the search for Martin Luther King's assassin, newly disclosed FBI documents reveal.

Four days after King was slain in Memphis on April 4, 1968, FBI headquarters ordered an investigation of all known members of the Klan, the right-wing minutemen, "other hate group members, rabble rousers and any other individuals known to have violent proclivities located within your territories."

The order was sent to FBI field offices in Memphis and Knoxville, Tenn., Birmingham and Mobile, Ala., Jackson, Milwaukee and Minneapolis.

ROY K. MOORE of Jackson, who headed the FBI's Jackson field office from 1964 to 1971 and 1972 to 1973 before retiring, was not available for comment Wednesday night.

Moore is now director of security for a Jackson bank.

A spokesman for the FBI's Jackson office said he could not comment since the case had been reopened.

The memo is part of about 18,000 documents compiled by the FBI during its investigation of the civil rights leader's death.

THE FBI is releasing 442 pages to comply with requests under the Freedom of Information Act. Officials are screening the rest of the files to determine what else will be released.

The documents provide the first public details of the FBI probe. James Earl Ray, who was subsequently arrested, pleaded guilty to shooting King. As a result, the government never was required to present its evidence at a trial or any other public forum.

Ray has since attempted to change his plea and obtain a trial.

The first batch of papers dealt with the early days of the investigation and included no mention of Ray.

BUT THREE memos identified Eric Starvo Galt as a suspect. That was an alias Ray used.

The April 8 memo from headquarters told the seven field offices to investigate members of the Klan, Minutemen and other groups "to ascertain their whereabouts" at the time King was shot.

Those without an alibi would be regarded as potential suspects and their fingerprints, obtained from military records or already on file with the bureau, would be checked against prints found in the rooming house where the shot was fired, the memo indicated.

The FBI paid special attention to some members of the Klan and Minutemen because of their past activities or because informers called attention to them, the memo disclosed.

FOR EXAMPLE, an informer identified as an ex-Klansman told the FBI about a Klan member in Greenville, Miss., whom he "believed capable of violence and believed possible he may have murdered King." Another informer said that a Klan leader he met in a Savannah, Ga., bar "is an exact look-alike to the artist's conception" of the suspected assassin. The artist's sketch of the suspect had been widely published in newspapers.

Agents also focused on Byron Beckwith, who had been arrested for the 1963 murder of civil rights leader Medgar Evers in Mississippi. Beckwith was tried twice but neither jury was able to reach a verdict.

Beckwith "has been involved in Klan activities for many years and has a propensity for violence," said one memo.

PHOTOS of Beckwith were circulated to agents in Birmingham and Memphis to show to persons being questioned in the investigation.

As for the Minutemen, the Boston field office reported that an unnamed informer said the right-wing group "had a general plan to foment civil strife by killing Negro leaders, Martin Luther King, Rap Brown and Stokely Carmichael and therefore, seize power in the confusion. No specific timetable was set."

The memo noted that Minutemen leaders Robert B. DePugh and Walter Patrick Peyson had been convicted of federal firearms violations.

At the time of the King assassination, DePugh and Peyson were wanted on federal fugitive warrants and the Memphis field office suggested the search for them should be intensified. But the Charlotte field office reported that an informer was questioned about the two Minutemen leaders and said "he had no knowledge that the Minutemen had any plans to kill King."

Besides, the informer said, if "any of the hard core Minutemen shot King, they would have dismantled the rifle and put it in a briefcase rather than abandon it, and would not have run from the scene."

Judge May Order Ray To Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP)—If James Earl Ray has not arrived in Memphis by Thursday morning, a federal judge will be asked to direct his immediate transfer from the Tennessee Penitentiary in Nashville, an attorney for Ray said Tuesday.

Robert I. Livingston of Memphis said he is surprised that Ray already has not been transported to Memphis for an evidentiary hearing that begins Tuesday before U. S. District Court Judge Robert O. McRae Jr.

But Asst. State Atty. Gen. Henry Haile said the state has no plans to produce Ray in Memphis this week. The hearing that is to last up to two weeks will be on Ray's claim that he was pressured into a guilty plea in the April, 4, 1968, slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Ray entered the plea March 10, 1969, and drew a 99-year sentence without the necessity of a full scale trial.

If McRae upholds Ray's contention that he was coerced, the judge could order the state to allow Ray to withdraw the plea and stand trial for King's murder. Livingston said Ray's Washington attorneys, Bernard Fensterwald and James Lesar, are scheduled to arrive in Memphis this evening and plan a series of pre-hearing conferences with Ray. "We don't intend to be running back and forth between Memphis and Nashville to meet with our client," Livingston said. The distance is about 200 miles.

Haile told The Associated Press in Nashville, "He (Livingston) hasn't said anything to us about wanting him (Ray) over there." Livingston, however, maintains that Haile "doesn't want Ray in Memphis at all. And it would not surprise me if he doesn't hold off until the morning of the hearing before having him brought in."

The dispute is the latest between Ray's lawyers and Haile, who on behalf of the state had opposed the evidentiary hearing. Haile also objected to a McRae order giving Ray attorneys access to a number of previously closed files and has an appeal pending before the U. S. Supreme Court in which the state seeks reversal of the ruling.

Livingston said defense lawyers this week were given until Monday to file an answer to the state's appeal. He said the defense would meet the deadline, although it probably would not be until Monday, and questioned what the Supreme Court could do between the time the papers are filed and the start of the Tuesday hearing.

McRae has designated the U.S. Marshal's office to handle security for Ray while he is in the city where King died, but Livingston said the judge's order requires state officials to transport Ray to Memphis, although no timetable is spelled out.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Willie Durham said Tuesday that Ray would be brought to Memphis "three or four days in advance of the hearing," but declined to give an exact day.

Ray Awarded Rehearing On King Murder

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — James Earl Ray was given a chance Tuesday to contest his guilty plea in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. because of allegations his attorneys compromised his interests to fatten their pocketbooks.

The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that Ray, 41, who received a 99-year sentence for the 1968 murder of the civil rights leader, is entitled to a hearing to contest his 1969 guilty plea.

Ray argued that he was not given proper legal advice. He said his lawyers failed to properly investigate his case and that their only interest was to collect royalties on materials written about him.

In a 2-1 decision, the circuit court sent Ray's petition back to the U.S. District Court in Nashville for review.

Ray alleged he was poorly advised by attorney Arthur Hanes, and by Percy Foreman after he fired Hanes. He alleged both were more interested in funds that would accrue from articles and books planned by Alabama author William Bradford Huie than in his defense.

Ray said the lawyers considered his guilty plea paramount to the financial success of the articles and a possible movie on the case.

The court cited two letters written to Ray by Foreman. The first letter said Ray had signed all royalties to Foreman and that Foreman would keep all monies up to $165,000. It also said Ray would get all royalties above that figure if he pleaded guilty and caused no embarrassing circumstances in the courtroom.

The second said Foreman would give $500 to Ray's brother Jerry, "contingent upon the plea of guilty and sentence going through on March 10, 1969 without any unseemly conduct on your part in court."

The court said only by giving Ray a hearing on his contentions "may it be determined whether the plea was intelligent or voluntary or entered as the result of coercion, threats and promises."

"The allegations ... if true, would support a finding that Ray's attorneys deliberately compromised their client's interests in order to further the financial success of Huie's works in which they themselves had a substantial interest."

"Such conduct would constitute an outrageous abrogation of the standards which the legal profession for itself and upon which its clients have a right to rely ..."

The appeals court noted the original trial judge had thoroughly questioned Ray about his plea, and whether it was voluntary.

But it said "it is clear, that the allegations which are the subject of Ray's petition have never been tried upon their merits or resolved by any court — allegations which, if true, plainly negate any notion or idea that his guilty plea and answers ... were made voluntarily and intentionally."

"... No inquiry was made into the specific contentions that are now before this court."

The major opinion was written by Judge William E. Miller and concurred in by Judge Harry Phillips.

Ray Escape Try Might Have Meant His Death

May Never Have Survived Heat In Tunnel Had He Not Left It

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—James Earl Ray, self-confessed slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., almost turned his 99-year-sentence into death when he tried to escape through a prison steam tunnel.

"He would never have survived the heat if he hadn't got out of the tunnel," said Brushy Mountain State Prison Warden Robert H. Moore Monday after Ray's unsuccessful escape attempt.

As it was, he was captured within a half hour in the prison compounds—looking for way to get over the stone wall of the maximum security prison nestled in the Cumberland Mountains.

He faced a disciplinary board this morning.

"He was in the tunnel for only about 10 minutes," Moore said, "and he had a few burns but they didn't appear to be serious."

More said it would have been impossible for Ray to have reached the end of the tunnel without being scalded to death in the 400 degree heat. The tunnel, which leads to the prison steam plant outside the prison walls, supplies steam to the prison mess hall and is in use year round.

Otherwise, it was a "well-conceived escape attempt," Moore said.

"First, he removed a concrete block in his cell and to out into an air chamber, a ventilating area behind the cell-block. He crawled along the air chamber to the end and sawed one bar and broke another with a crowbar.

"He pulled himself through the hole and got out into the prison yard behind the cell-block. Then he went to the steam tunnel which leads to our steam plant about 100 yards outside the prison."

Moore said Ray, who pleaded guilty to the sniper slaying of King outside a Memphis motel room on April 4, 1968, got help room on April 4, 1968, got help in his escape bid from his cell-mate, Roy Morelock, 44, of Greene County.

The warden said Morelock, serving a life term as an habitual criminal from Greene County, worked as a prison maintenance man and had access to the tools Ray used in the escape attempt.

More said Morelock obviously intended to escape with Ray and supplied him with a hacksaw, crowbar, ~~hammer~~ and chisel.

"Morelock had access to such tools as these and he obviously intended to escape with Ray," Moore said. "Our guards caught up the attempt so fast he didn't have time to get out of the cell."

Ray is no stranger to escapes and was, in fact, a fugitive from Missouri at the time King was slain.

He had escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary April 23, 1967, where he was serving 20 years on a car theft charge. He was not recaptured then until he was picked up in London, some two months after London, some two months after King was shot to death in 1968.

His arrest record before he entered the Tennessee prison system shows he first was booked on suspicion of burglary in Los Angeles and was placed on two years' probation. He had been in and out of various charges until he was sentenced to the Missouri prison in 1967.

Ray has sought several times to obtain a new trial in the King slaying, contending he was pressured by his lawyer into pleading guilty. Each time he has lost, the latest rejections coming in Memphis Feb. 27.

Freeway Dedicated To King

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Memphis, where Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was killed on April 4, 1968, dedicated a section of its freeway system to the slain civil rights leader Sunday to mark the third anniversary of his death.

King was in Memphis when slain to help back demands by 3,000 city sanitation workers, 98 per cent of them black, for union representation.

The sanitation workers paid tribute to King by marching from the Lorraine Motel, the spot in this Mississippi river city where King was standing at the time he was shot.

The City Council, after debating the matter each year since his death, approved naming the entire north-south freeway for King by an 8-6 vote last Tuesday.

The Rev. James Netens, black councilman who presided at the dedication, told the gathering that it was appropriate to name the highways section for King because King "traveled America's highways and byways to stamp out injustice and discrimination."

The city's three black councilmen, and one white councilman were the only city officials who appeared for the dedication. Mayor Henry Loeb was absent, as were other top white officials. About 200 persons attended in all, a large majority of them black.

Later in the day a rally was planned to memorialize King, and scheduled to participate in that were Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., who is white, and the Rev. Walter Fauntroy, a black elected recently as the first Washington, D.C., nonvoting representatives to Congress.

Jerry Wurf, international president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal employes, the sanitationmen's union, also was present at the dedication and was scheduled to speak at the rally.

The 12-mile north-south freeway, Interstate 255, goes through the heart of the city and bisects several black neighborhoods.

Memphis officials of the Sons of the Confederacy protested to the council late last week that the expressway should not be named for King, but should be called Confederate Parkway. They said officials in 1963 had promised them it would be so named, but they had no records to substantiate it.

Memphis Sets King Route Dedication

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The Memphis City Council by a narrow 8-6 margin Tuesday voted to name a north-south expressway after civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. who lost his life here.

The action came less than a week before the third anniversary of King's slaying.

He was felled by a sniper's bullet while standing on a motel balcony in downtown Memphis.

There was no council debate on the measure and the highway will keep its official federal designation as Interstate-225.

A memorial march and rally are scheduled Sunday, the anniversary of King's death, and city spokesmen said they hope to dedicate the road to him on that day.

No Honors Due Martin L. King

Editor, Daily News—Martin Luther King, Jr., should not be honored by any true American whatsoever, as a so-called civil-rights leader, for the following reasons:

Father Daniel Lyons, S. J., reported in the May 7, 1967 issue of OUR SUNDAY VISITOR, a national Catholic publication: "I went to see this famous Christian (sic) leader when he spoke at the Riverside Church on April 14, in New York City. I was never more shocked in my life. Dr. King preached the straight Communist line. Dr. King praised the Viet Cong as 'the only party in real touch with the peasants.' Only Marxism has the revolutionary spirit.' He condemned the United States as 'the greatest purveyor of violence in the world today.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover called King a "most notorious liar" that he had ever known—a statement Hoover has never retracted.

Sincerely,
Leo F. Kahian

King Memorial Rallies Revolvers

Editor, Daily News—The birthday of Martin Luther King Jr. on January 15 was widely observed, newspaper accounts reported.

This reveals that those who scheduled the observance simply can't or won't understand the English language.

The public record of the civil rights leader shows that he had amassed 60 Communist-front citations in his lifetime. His subversive record has been thoroughly documented by the states of the Union and the national government and has been well publicized.

In addition, King has been called "the most notorious liar in the country" by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover on November 18, 1964. U. S. Rep. F. Edward Hébert of Louisiana termed King "the American Castro" on April 30, 1967 and he added there is no place in this country for people like King.

Wittingly or unwittingly, those who scheduled the observance are playing into the hands of those who are pushing Congress to set up a federal legal holiday for King so that ostensibly his memory will be a rallying point for revolutionaries who intend to communize, pauperize and tyrannize over the American people.

Sincerely,
Jackson Ricau

JACKSON DIVISION

EACH RA

Will review the above names of those individuals who reside within their respective RA and conduct appropriate credit and criminal check and, if deemed advisable, will interview the individual if there is a possibility of any association with JAMES EARL RAY. All results of investigation should be furnished to SA JOHN L. PUDDISTER, Case Agent.

AT JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI

Will review above names through indices.

BACKGROUND

According to statements allegedly made by JAMES EARL RAY, which were published in a recent issue of a nationally distributed periodical, RAY spent the night at a motel near Corinth, Miss., while en route from Atlanta, Georgia, to Memphis, Tennessee. He allegedly engaged in target practice in Mississippi using the murder weapon. This occurred a few days prior to the murder of MARTIN LUTHER KING.

The Bureau instructed the Jackson Division to check motel records in and near Corinth for the period March 29, 1968, to April 3, 1968, in an attempt to locate a guest record identifiable with RAY under his true name or known aliases, i.e., James Earl Ray, John Williard, Eric Starvo Galt, and if any record located, determine if RAY was alone, vehicle utilized, and people he may have contacted.

The foregoing list of names contained in this memo is the result of review of motel and hotel records. It is noted none seem to be identical to RAY.

Each individual listed should be further identified to establish such a person actually exists and is not an alias used by RAY. This can be done by credit and arrest agency checks. In the event arrest record is located for any individual listed, evaluation should be made as to advisability of interview to determine if the individual involved was associated in any way with JAMES EARL RAY.

This matter should be afforded immediate and expedite attention.

JACKSON DIVISION

EACH RA

Will review the above names of those individuals who reside within their respective RA and conduct appropriate credit and criminal check and, if deemed advisable, will interview the individual if there is a possibility of any association with JAMES EARL RAY. All results of investigation should be furnished to SA JOHN L. PUDDISTER, Case Agent.

JN 157-9586

AT JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI

Will review above names through indices.

BACKGROUND

According to statements allegedly made by JAMES EARL RAY, which were published in a recent issue of a nationally distributed periodical, RAY spent the night at a motel near Corinth, Miss., while en route from Atlanta, Georgia, to Memphis, Tennessee. He allegedly engaged in target practice in Mississippi using the murder weapon. This occurred a few days prior to the murder of MARTIN LUTHER KING.

The Bureau instructed the Jackson Division to check motel records in and near Corinth for the period March 29, 1968, to April 3, 1968, in an attempt to locate a guest record identifiable with RAY under his true name or known aliases, i.e., James Earl Ray, John Williard, Eric Starvo Galt, and if any record located, determine if RAY was alone, vehicle utilized, and people he may have contacted.

The foregoing list of names contained in this memo is the result of review of motel and hotel records. It is noted none seem to be identical to RAY.

Each individual listed should be further identified to establish such a person actually exists and is not an alias used by RAY. This can be done by credit and arrest agency checks. In the event arrest record is located for any individual listed, evaluation should be made as to advisability of interview to determine if the individual involved was associated in any way with JAMES EARL RAY.

This matter should be afforded immediate and expedite attention.

JACKSON DIVISION

EACH RA

Will review the above names of those individuals who reside within their respective RA and conduct appropriate credit and criminal check and, if deemed advisable, will interview the individual if there is a possibility of any association with JAMES EARL RAY. All results of investigation should be furnished to SA JOHN L. PUDDISTER, Case Agent.

JN 157-9586

AT JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI

Will review above names through indices.

BACKGROUND

According to statements allegedly made by JAMES EARL RAY, which were published in a recent issue of a nationally distributed periodical, RAY spent the night at a motel near Corinth, Miss., while en route from Atlanta, Georgia, to Memphis, Tennessee. He allegedly engaged in target practice in Mississippi using the murder weapon. This occurred a few days prior to the murder of MARTIN LUTHER KING.

The Bureau instructed the Jackson Division to check motel records in and near Corinth for the period March 29, 1968, to April 3, 1968, in an attempt to locate a guest record identifiable with RAY under his true name or known aliases, i.e., James Earl Ray, John Williard, Eric Starvo Galt, and if any record located, determine if RAY was alone, vehicle utilized, and people he may have contacted.

The foregoing list of names contained in this memo is the result of review of motel and hotel records. It is noted none seem to be identical to RAY.

Each individual listed should be further identified to establish such a person actually exists and is not an alias used by RAY. This can be done by credit and arrest agency checks. In the event arrest record is located for any individual listed, evaluation should be made as to advisability of interview to determine if the individual involved was associated in any way with JAMES EARL RAY.

This matter should be afforded immediate and expedite attention.
